Schooled for Success

It has been a memorable first year for Mr Laurence McKell, the new headmaster of Mount St Mary's College, the Jesuit school near Sheffield. His highlights include Oxbridge offers, the Young Enterprise team reaching the Regional final in June, seven 1st XV players winning county and national recognition, and the Jazz Band raising £1200 for charity.

“There have been many pleasing successes, all demonstrating our commitment to helping our pupils reach their potential in and outside the classroom.”

Mr McKell is no stranger to Catholic boarding and day schools, having previously been an Assistant Housemaster at Ampleforth and Deputy Headmaster at Stonyhurst College. At Mount St Mary's the boarding community is smaller, but he believes this brings advantages: “Every boarder is known as an individual, and I am struck by the family atmosphere, humour and camaraderie shown across the age range at the events and themed evenings that boarding staff organise for their charges.”

Many pupils come from the Mount's preparatory school, Barlborough Hall, a popular choice for local parents of children aged 3-11. The senior school attracts local, national and international pupils: small class sizes and the sense of community are often cited as reasons for applying.

Prospective families are always welcome to visit by appointment.
